THE 2012 NICKELODEON ARTIST FELLOWSHIP PORTFOLIO REVIEW

In partnership with the San Diego Latino Film Festival

The 2012 Nickelodeon Artist Fellowship Portfolio Review is a one day, by invitation only event for aspiring character, background layout, color and storyboard artists! The portfolio review serves as an opportunity to prepare for submission to the Nickelodeon Artist Fellowship.

In its second year, the Nickelodeon Artist Fellowship continues to discover and nurture the development of emerging and diverse artists for positions within the Nickelodeon Animation Studio.

Portfolio review applicants are required to submit a request for consideration to info.artistfellowship@nick.com between Monday, February 6, 2012 and 5 pm Friday, February 17, 2012. You may only submit a request during this time. One email request per person. Those who submit a request before or after these dates, or send multiple emails, will not be considered.

Up to fifteen candidates will be randomly selected to receive a one-on-one portfolio review at the 19th annual San Diego Latino Film Festival on Saturday, March 10, 2012. The selected candidates will receive an email as to the time and location of their portfolio review by Wednesday, February 22, 2012.
